Roman Religion

In the earlier Roman times, the Roman people believed in many different gods and goddesses whom they believed controlled different aspects of their lives.

They did not have a central belief system of their own as such, but rather borrowed gods, rituals and superstitions from a number of sources and adapted them to suit their own needs. The Romans believed in good and bad omens and they performed many rituals in the hope of receiving good luck. Prayer and sacrifice was important and the Romans held festivals every month to honour the gods. They would worship their gods and goddesses at temples.

Roman Gods and Goddesses

The Romans had lots of gods and goddesses. Many of their gods and goddesses are the same as the Greek gods, but with different names. They make things very confusing! We are going to look at some of the more popular Roman gods and goddesses. If they sound familiar, the table on the following slide might help you to recognise the Greek gods and goddesses of the same name.

Aphrodite

or...

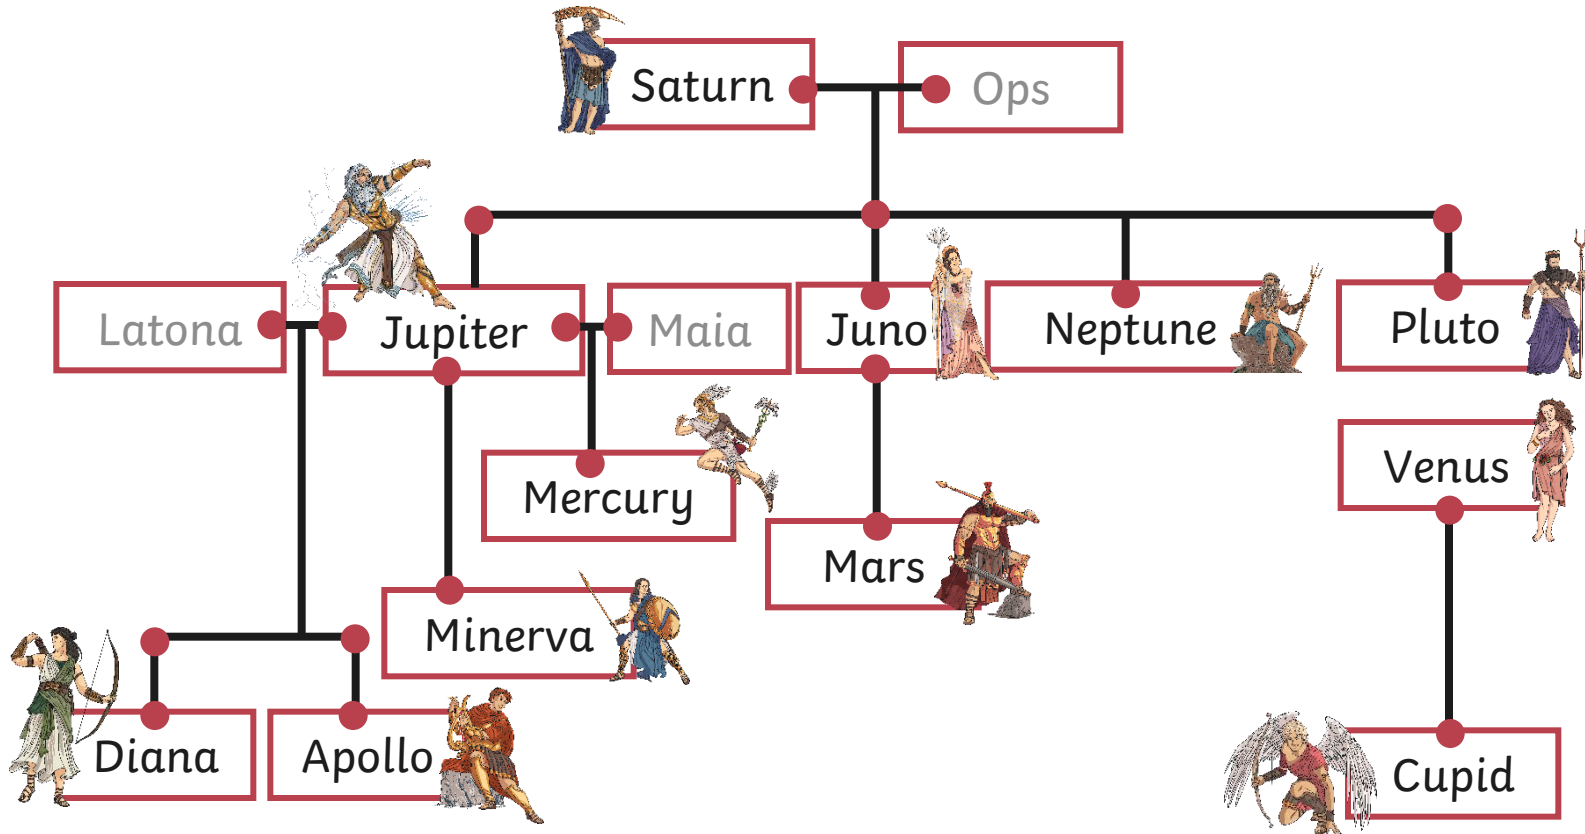

Venus?

A God Family Tree

Most of the gods and goddesses were related to each other. Have a look at this family tree to see how our twelve gods and goddesses were linked.

Gods and Goddesses Details

Now let's have a closer look at some of the Roman gods.

Saturn: God of Time

Father of Jupiter, Pluto, Neptune, Juno, Ceres and Vesta.
Married to Ops, Mother Goddess.

Saturn was the God of time and the first king of the Gods.

He carried a scythe for a weapon

The Saturnalia festival lasted seven days and was similar to our Christmas today.

Jupiter: King of the Gods and Heavens

Son of Saturn. Brother of Pluto and Neptune.

Married to Juno, who was also his sister.

Jupiter could shape-shift (make his body look like something else, e.g. an animal) and throw his voice.

He was the God of the heavens.

Jupiter rode a winged horse called Pegasus who carried thunderbolts that the God used as weapons

Juno: Queen of the Gods

Married to Jupiter.

Mother of Mars, Natio, Juventa and Vulcan

There was a festival every year on the 1st March to honour Juno.

Neptune: God of the Seas

Brother of Jupiter and Pluto.

Neptune was also the god of earthquakes, known as the Earth-Shaker.

He rode a dolphin and has a trident which had three prongs.

Pluto: God of the Underworld

Brother of Jupiter and Neptune.

He had a three-headed dog called Cerberus.

He rode on a golden chariot.

Venus: Goddess of Love and Beauty

Her sign was a rose.

Venus represents water and Roman mythology claims she was born out of sea foam.

What have you learned?

Task 1: Create your own information sheets about a Roman God of your choice.

Task 2: Create your own Roman God.

Include the following: Name, what they are the God of, do they have any special powers? Do they have any symbols or familiars (animals or mythical beasts that are their pets which they use for protection or transport)
